COOKIES POLICY

What are cookies?

Cookies are small text files that are sent to and stored on your computer, smartphone or other device to access the internet, every time you visit a website. Cookies are useful because they allow websites to recognize a user's device.

How do cookies make our website more secure and easy to use?

The use of cookies is common and can be profitable. We use cookies on our website to create a safe and effective website for users. Cookies allow us to improve your experience when using our website and ensure the site performs as expected.

Cookies help us to personalize web content and fulfil the wishes of visitors. We use cookies to protect your privacy. Our website does not use cookies to collect personal information from your computer. We never store passwords or similar sensitive data in cookies.

We use analytics cookies to help analyse how users use this site. By showing how and when visitors use this site, cookies help us find out which pages of the site are popular and which are not, and how we can improve this site for you.

Can cookies pass on personal information to other people?

We use analytic cookies on this website so that we can share information with other parties namely analytics providers but no personal information.

Our website may contain links to other sites. Please be aware that we are not responsible for the collection of data or content from such third party websites and any information they may collect, although our name or logo may appear on such sites. We ask you to be careful when leaving our site and to read the Privacy terms of the webs you visit, as the privacy policies of those sites may differ from ours.

How can you manage your cookies?

The browsers of most computers, smartphones, and other web-enabled devices are usually set up to accept cookies. You have the option to control the acceptance of cookies yourself and, if you wish, you can block them completely by configuring your Internet browser. Please see the documentation for your browser to change your preferences for this.

Please note that cookies are used to enable and improve certain functions on our website. If you choose to disable certain cookies, it may affect how our site works.

To find out more about how we protect your privacy when using our website, see the Privacy policy for more.
